chickpeas – the super legume!

Low Glycemic Index – Chickpeas release energy into the body slowly helping to maintain a consistent energy level making them an ideal ingredient to use for pets with diabetes.

Fiber – Chickpeas are packed full of fiber to aid in reducing cholesterol and to help prevent large swings in blood sugar levels.

Protein – An excellent source of protein, chickpeas have more grams of protein per cup when compared to other legumes or even potatoes or sweet potatoes.

Antioxidants – Not only do chickpeas provide an excellent source of antioxidants such as Vitamins A and C helping to reduce cell damage, they also contain important minerals such as iron, and zinc. Zinc is necessary to help prevent infection.

Folate – Chickpeas are rich in folate, a naturally occurring, water-soluble B vitamin, which helps produce and maintain new cells also helping to prevent changes in a cell's DNA that may lead to cancer.
